CHECKED BY PRIMARY LAW

INDIANAPOLIS CAN'T GET GOOD MAYORALTY CANDIDATES.

Business Men on Both Sides Fight Shy of Entering on a Preliminary Canvass -Ward Workers and Party Hustlers Bring Out the Small Calibre Men.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 24 -The two political parties in this city are in a heated campaign which will close on August 5 of a crime in any section of the county with a primary election at which candidates for Mayor, City Clerk, Police Judge and members of the City Council will be chosen. Under the law both parties must hold their primaries at the same time and places This is the first time that candidates will be chosen under the primary

In many minds the primary law is directly responsible for the dearth of candidates of recognized ability for Mayor. In the preliminary stages when business men were approached and asked to stand for the nomination they replied that they could not give the time to a canvass for the nomination and a campaign then for the office. This caused men of smaller calibre to enter the field and the contest between men in both parties who are not acceptable to the business interests of the city. The candidates are looked upon as wanting in those essentials that rould reflect honor upon the city.

The candidates are appealing night after night to the ward worker and the party hustler and apparently ignoring business element. It is altogether probable that the first nominations under the primary law will be made not by the men who pay the taxes but by those who care nothing for consequences so they get to shake down the plums.

Charles B. Clark and Charles Gauss are the Democratic candidates, and Newton is at the head of the movement. W. Harding and Lew Shank are asking for the Republican nomination. Clark is an attorney. Gauss is a tinner by trade. He was nominated and elected to the Legislature by the Democrats last year, and voted steadily with the antiocal option advocates in that body. The temperance people are opposed to him because of the supposed domination of the brewers and the fact that they are backing his candidacy.

On the other hand, Tom Taggart has espoused the cause of Clark, and it is believed that the nomination of either of the two men means that the brewery interests will have dictated the Democratic nomination. The Democrate who are ination. The Democrats who are ac-quainted with Taggart's methods and his brewery connection believe that he has espoused the cause of Clark in order that esponsed the cause of Clark in order that no matter which candidate is nominated the brewery interests will be protected.

Harding is a lawyer and was defeated for the Mayoralty several years ago by one of the largest majorities ever recorded in a city election. The Republicans had a normal majority of 2,500, and Harding was defeated by a majority of nearly 4,000. He is believed to be asking the nomination now because the Democrats have put out such poor candidates, and if nominated, would expect to win on their Shank is known as "The Limit" among the business interests of the city. He is an auctioneer and a past master of all the arts known to that profession. He is running a daily advertisement in which he appears with a broad grin on his face over the motto: "I am for honesty in olitics as well as in business

There is naturally a good deal of criticism of the new primary law under such conditions, and the feeling is growing that it was a mistake to start it. Many who were indifferent when the Legislature was in session now say that, whatever may be the merits of a primary system in the rural districts, it is a mistake to apply it to cities where campaigns are necessarily expensive and where business. sarily expensive and where business For more than a month before the lines of the campaign were laid down efforts were made to get business men to con-sent to the use of their names as candi-dates. PRIMARY LAW IN FORT WAYNE. Bemocratic Candidate for Mayor Got

Less Than One-third of Total Vote. FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 24.—The first mominations of city officials under the new primary law were made here yesterday, but so close were the Democratic candidates for Mayor that the result was not known till early this morning. There were four candidates and the successful man was nominated by a plurality of four votes in a total of 6,354.

There is much dissatisfaction over the result, as the heavy vote against Schmidt, the successful candidate, makes him the party nominee on a vote of less than one-third of the total vote cast for the office of Mayor. Sherer, the brewery candidate, was beaten.

ELWOOD, Ind., July 24.—The strike situation changed suddenly last night from one of simply waiting on events to assaults by the strikers upon non-union men who refused to leave the employ of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. A large number of men surrounded the plant and hooted and yelled at the workmen on the inside when the pickets could get sight of them. Missiles were hurled at the strikebreakers when opportunity presented, but none of the men was hit.

David Rodgers and Henry Harris, mill foremen, were attacked by Joseph Francis, a picket, as they were on their way to the plant and in two minutes a mob of 300 men hard gathered. LOTT HEIRS LACK HIS SAND. July... Ocean Bore It to Rocksway Point and Government O K's the Transit.

If the coean takes property from one man and heaps it high and dry on another's beach the original owner loses title to it. This is the gist of a decision handed down yesterday by Judge Chatfield in the United States Circuit Court. Brooklyn. The property in dispute—Rockaway Point—was claimed by the descendants of Jeremiah Lott, owners of the largest part of Barren Island.

They say that the tides of Jamaica Bay stole part of their island and made the point. By old maps and deeds they showed that Barren Island in the olden time was not in Jamaica Bay but was bounded on the south by the sea, and that as the island diminished Rockaway Beach, formerly owned by Collis P. Huntington, increased, stretching out an arm that finally cut off the island from the sea. If the ocean takes property from one that finally cut off the island from the sea.

The heirs of Lott and their friends took actual possession of the point, claiming it as their own, but the heirs of Huntington sold it to Andrew K. Van Deventer, treasurer of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, who is said to have bought it for the Harriman interests. He then began suit in the Federal Court to oust those in possession, the owners of Barren Island. Had he lost he might have been compelled to buy it over again, as it is said to be destined for a big railroad and shipping terminal when the bay has been improved according to plans now being considered by Congress.

The ruling was called forth by the fact that the New York Life was approaching the $150,000,000 limitation on new business to be written by a company in a year.

BETTER TRAIN SERVICE.

The Six Brooklyn Elevated Lines Are to Service on six elevated railway lines in Brooklyn will be increased on Saturday afternoons and Sundays for the rest of the season as a result of investigations made by members of the Public Service Commission. The commission announced its findings yesterday and the increase service was announced by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company at the same time.

The lines affected are the Brighton Beach, West End, Sea Beach, Fulton street, Broadway and Lexington avenue lines. The improved service affects both local and express traffic and involves a rearrangement of some express train stops. That at Franklin avenue of express trains from Park row on the Brighton Beach line in the rush hour of Saturday afternoon, for instance, will be omitted to permit a better local service from Franklin avenue to the beach. The trains which now run only between Prespect Park and now run only between Prospect Park and the beach hereafter will be operated be-tween the beach and Franklin avenue.

TRUST CO. 1415 Arch St., Philadelphia A REAL OPPORTUNITY

Ten million tons of a world wade necessity is manufactured annually in this country alone. A patented process which reduces the cost to manufacture this commodity more than 50° is now being commercially demonstrated. We own this process absolutely. To facilitate the filling of many orders for machines, incorporating an immense outlay of cash, we find it desirable to increase our working capital. A few people with from $1,000 to $10,000 are invited to participate, and for this purpose a limited amount of full paid stock is offered for a short time at considerably less than par. Profits are very great and large returns assured. The most thorough investigation is invited. Address REAL, box 114 Sun office.
